NEWS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

QUADY WINERY IN EXPANSION

This year Quady Winery is set to produce more than 130,000 cases of wine, delivered to over 15 different countries, with more growth expected next year. More grapes and more hands needs more space! Fortunately, their 22,000 square foot expansion project is just weeks away from completion. This new addition, alongside Quady Winery's preexisting large facility, is packed with innovations and controls that allow the winemakers to keep tabs on nearly 350,000 gallons of wine all at once.

The new building is packed with energy efficient lighting and equipment wall-to-wall. LED lights equipped with motion sensors brighten the entire area and nearly every square inch of the roof is packed with solar powered technology. This latest building project is a significant step in delivering more of your favorite Quady Moscato wines!
